

My Resume

Alan Crawford has the temperament of a young fawn grazing in the savanna. Soft to touch, but sitting on a knife's edge while expecting prey to pounce. He hopes to provide his services while being alert, at peak, on time and onside while being extremely happy to serve. If you seek an employee to meld into your work culture, you'll find him able to change into whatever you need. He has his own goals and would like to achieve them, or yours, whichever makes more sense.

Experience

Mumbles Voice-Over Studio — March 2018 – Present

Alan is serving as the studio talent coordinator/assistant. He loves the camaraderie and/or complete solitude a recording studio can provide. Duties include retrieving refreshments, food, and substances (solid and liquid), both legal and illegal, to all that require such things. His greatest achievement to date has been to clean and restore the studio to its former glory after the famous collaborative recording of the song "Fuck off, it's Christmas". The attendees made such a mess that it took Alan three weeks to clean and disinfect the studio, reception, photocopier and bathrooms. Mumbles provided Alan with an award for his dedication.

Ralph's Auto Shop – 1977 – March 2018 Note to potential employer.

Alan left school with an enthusiastic willingness to succeed in business, and he secured a position in Ralph's Auto Shop following a two-year gap year break after leaving school. The parole board social workers were pleased to recommend him. Alan was gaining confidence with a view of the world that his high school years failed to achieve. His case worker suggested Ralph's Autos as they supported prison reform, although they weren't known for complying with wage compensation obligations, they treated their charges reasonably well. Well, enough for the Parole Board at least.

Education

Crisis High School – 1971 – 1975 Note to potential employer.

Alan did not suit formalised education. His passion was for drumming on desks. He would be rewarded for passing critical milestones, exams, attendance, personal grooming standards, etc. He received so many vouchers for Star City Music that he gathered quite a supply of drums, bongos, kits, and various percussion instruments. His educational qualifications should be considered irrelevant.

Note to potential employer.

I have created this resume to assist Alan Crawford in pursuing his dream of music production, software design and AI development. I will, however, tell you that he has no computer skills, coding or otherwise. Indeed, he asked me to create this resume because he has no computer and would struggle to read one, let alone write with it. 2 His passion for music is legendary, and his willingness to please, although sometimes worrisome, is also to be commended. He has not been diagnosed with any "known medical conditions" that might cause his afflictions, but he may well be described as meeting many, if not all, such conditions, should they be identified. Please hesitate to contact me directly if you would like to discuss issues or concerns raised in this resume. It is with some hesitation that I recommend Alan to you, but please understand that if you are his next employer, he should be able to develop his unique set of skills and benefit from them. Robert Arthurson
